Expert Support for Continuous Surgical
Asset Management Improvements

OPERATE WITH GREATER PRECISION™

Know Your Next Move

AESCULAP®

Stronger surgical asset management, now and for the future

Turn planning into action to enhance the quality, efficiency and value of asset management.

Sterile processing department (SPD) teams, having to juggle process improvement plan implementation with day-to-day challenges, often find themselves lacking the bandwidth and experience to make adjustments efficiently, if at all. This means that even with recommendations and a well-crafted growth plan, change can still fall short without the right support.

Do staff and bandwidth limitations prevent implementation of process improvements?

Limited staffing and experience can slow down growth plans—but they don't have to.

Aesculap is here to help guide your team through the transformation, providing knowledge, tools and empowerment to make these changes stick. This ensures lasting success beyond implementation, enabling you to continuously refine processes and drive further improvements in surgical asset management.

The Aesculap approach for maintainable growth

Our Process Evolution services are designed to ensure continuous improvement in both the short and long term, empowering your OR and SPD teams to drive innovation and sustain growth.

Understanding your organization

An initial workshop to define and clarify your organization's objectives ensures we fully align with your goals and incorporate them into future growth plans.

Foundation building

Our experts collaborate with your team to establish a strong foundation for ongoing SPD and OR process improvement, setting the stage for continued growth and efficiency.

Thrive today, grow tomorrow

Imagine a hospital that embarks on a surgical asset management improvement plan, investing time and resources to, for example, clean and align data. At first, efficiency soars as workflows improve and decision-making is more precise. But over time, without consistent maintenance, updates like new trays and instruments or changes in staff and suppliers all chip away at data integrity, leading to inefficiencies creeping back in.

Process Evolution can prevent situations like this from happening by providing teams, at all experience levels, with the support needed to sustain improvements. Make sure that your investment isn't a one-time fix but instead a lasting transformation by:

- Facilitating process adoption by seamlessly integrating new and upgraded workflows with structured implementation plans that minimize disruption and maximize efficiency.
- Establishing KPIs and clear performance benchmarks to track improvements, drive continuous growth and work toward long-term operational success.
- Implementing your custom processes on-site, working side by side with your team to enable best practices and align processes with organizational goals.
- Organizing hands-on workshops designed to empower operating room (OR) and SPD staff and leadership while enhancing skill development and embracing Kaizen methodology for sustainable change.
